

The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World

By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson

Download now

Read Online

The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson

ARE YOU A CULTURAL CREATIVE?

Do you dislike all the emphasis in modern culture on success and “making it,” on getting and spending, on wealth and luxury goods?

Do you care deeply about the destruction of the environment and would pay higher taxes or prices to clean it up and to stop global warming?

Are you unhappy with both the left and the right in politics and want to find a new way that does not simply steer a middle course?

In this landmark book, sociologist Paul H. Ray and psychologist Sherry Ruth Anderson draw upon thirteen years of survey research studies on more than 100,000 Americans. They reveal who the Cultural Creatives are and the fascinating story of their emergence over the last generation, using vivid examples and engaging personal stories to describe their distinctive values and lifestyles. The Cultural Creatives offers a more hopeful future and prepares us all for a transition to a new, saner, and wiser culture.

 Download The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are ...pdf

 Read Online The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Ar ...pdf

The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World

By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson

The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson

ARE YOU A CULTURAL CREATIVE?

Do you dislike all the emphasis in modern culture on success and “making it,” on getting and spending, on wealth and luxury goods?

Do you care deeply about the destruction of the environment and would pay higher taxes or prices to clean it up and to stop global warming?

Are you unhappy with both the left and the right in politics and want to find a new way that does not simply steer a middle course?

In this landmark book, sociologist Paul H. Ray and psychologist Sherry Ruth Anderson draw upon thirteen years of survey research studies on more than 100,000 Americans. They reveal who the Cultural Creatives are and the fascinating story of their emergence over the last generation, using vivid examples and engaging personal stories to describe their distinctive values and lifestyles. The Cultural Creatives offers a more hopeful future and prepares us all for a transition to a new, saner, and wiser culture.

The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson Bibliography

- Sales Rank: #852678 in Books
- Published on: 2001-10-02
- Released on: 2001-10-02
- Original language: English
- Number of items: 1
- Dimensions: 9.70" h x 1.90" w x 8.30" l, 1.51 pounds
- Binding: Paperback
- 384 pages

 Download The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are ...pdf

 Read Online The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Ar ...pdf

Download and Read Free Online The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson

Editorial Review

Amazon.com Review

Do you "give a lot of importance to helping other people and bringing out their unique gifts?" Do you "dislike all the emphasis in modern culture on success and 'making it,' on getting and spending, on wealth and luxury goods?" Do you "want to be involved in creating a new and better way of life for our country?" If you answered yes to all three of these questions--and at least seven more of the remaining 15 in Paul Ray and Sherry Anderson's questionnaire--then you are probably a Cultural Creative.

Cultural Creative is a term coined by Ray and Anderson to describe people whose values embrace a curiosity and concern for the world, its ecosystem, and its peoples; an awareness of and activism for peace and social justice; and an openness to self-actualization through spirituality, psychotherapy, and holistic practices. Cultural Creatives do not just take the money and run; they don't want to defund the National Endowment for the Arts; and they do want women to get a fairer shake--not only in the United States, but around the globe.

On the basis of Ray and Anderson's research, about 50 million Americans are Cultural Creatives, a group that includes people of all races, ages, and classes. This subculture could have enormous social and political clout, the authors argue, if only it had any consciousness of itself as a cohesive unit, a society of fellow travelers. The husband and wife team wrote the book "to hold up a mirror" to the members of this vast but diffuse group, to show them they are not alone and that they can reshape society to make it more authentic, compassionate, and engaged. It is an idealistic call for a new agenda for a new millennium. --I. Crane

From Publishers Weekly

In an attempt to reconceptualize shifting American demographics that's similar to David Brook's Bobos in Paradise (Forecasts, Mar. 13), Ray and Anderson posit that hidden within America are 50 million people, 26% of the population, who are what they call "cultural creatives." Based on 12 years of survey research, 100 focus groups and dozens of interviews, their study presents a complex portrait of these citizens. According to the authors, cultural creatives share a series of attitudes and concerns: "they like to get a synoptic view [and] see all the parts spread out side by side and trace the interconnections"; they have strong concerns about the well-being of families; they have a well-developed social consciousness and a "guarded optimism for the future"; they are disenchanted with "owning more stuff... materialism... status display and the glaring social inequities of race" and are critical of almost every big institution of modern society, including corporations and government. This cultural group drawn from all classes, races, education and income levels and social backgrounds has emerged only during the past 50 years and, according to the authors, forms a coherent subculture, only "missing a self-awareness as a whole people." Ray and Anderson argue that cultural creatives hold the potential for radically reshaping the values and material realities, the "deep structure," of American life, and so they aim to make this group cognizant of their shared values, to bring about substantive changes. More successful than Brooks in grappling with issues of gender, ethnicity, race and class, Ray and Anderson offer unusual insights that, while broad and sweeping, shed new light on American culture and politics. (Sept.)

Copyright 2000 Reed Business Information, Inc.

From Library Journal

Ray, a market researcher, and Anderson, a psychologist and coauthor of The Feminine Face of God, have written a book about the 50 million so-called "cultural creatives" whose lifestyles and beliefs have been significantly informed by the social movements of the 1960s and 1970s. According to the authors, this group of Americans—which includes environmentalists, feminists, and those interested in alternative medicine, natural foods, and new forms of spirituality—advances progressive causes by effecting cultural change rather than by participating in organizational politics. In turn a demographic study, a history of the environmental and Civil Rights movements, and a self-help manual, this book seeks to get cultural creatives to recognize their collective strength and bring it to bear on the problems created by global capitalism. The authors have definitely put their finger on an important trend in American life, and many readers will find themselves described within these pages. However, the book suffers from its expansive perspective; important social movements get cursory attention while lengthy anecdotes at times seem redundant or superfluous. Still, it is recommended for public libraries. DAndrew Brodie Smith, Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Lib., Washington, DC

Copyright 2000 Reed Business Information, Inc.

Users Review

From reader reviews:

Wayne Santiago:

Do you have favorite book? If you have, what is your favorite's book? Guide is very important thing for us to know everything in the world. Each reserve has different aim or goal; it means that book has different type. Some people truly feel enjoy to spend their a chance to read a book. They may be reading whatever they acquire because their hobby will be reading a book. What about the person who don't like reading a book? Sometime, individual feel need book after they found difficult problem or exercise. Well, probably you will require this The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World.

Patricia Gross:

Reading a e-book can be one of a lot of action that everyone in the world likes. Do you like reading book consequently. There are a lot of reasons why people love it. First reading a publication will give you a lot of new info. When you read a e-book you will get new information due to the fact book is one of a number of ways to share the information or perhaps their idea. Second, looking at a book will make you more imaginative. When you studying a book especially fictional book the author will bring you to imagine the story how the figures do it anything. Third, you are able to share your knowledge to other folks. When you read this The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World, you are able to tells your family, friends as well as soon about yours book. Your knowledge can inspire average, make them reading a publication.

Joseph Herbst:

People live in this new morning of lifestyle always try to and must have the spare time or they will get great deal of stress from both lifestyle and work. So , if we ask do people have time, we will say absolutely sure. People is human not only a robot. Then we inquire again, what kind of activity do you have when the spare time coming to an individual of course your answer may unlimited right. Then do you try this one, reading textbooks. It can be your alternative with spending your spare time, the particular book you have read is usually The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World.

Michael Madden:

What is your hobby? Have you heard that question when you got college students? We believe that that problem was given by teacher to the students. Many kinds of hobby, Every individual has different hobby. And also you know that little person including reading or as looking at become their hobby. You need to understand that reading is very important along with book as to be the thing. Book is important thing to incorporate you knowledge, except your current teacher or lecturer. You discover good news or update about something by book. Different categories of books that can you choose to adopt be your object. One of them is this The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World.

Download and Read Online The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson #9XKWFJB4RDN

Read The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson for online ebook

The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson Free PDF d0wnl0ad, audio books, books to read, good books to read, cheap books, good books, online books, books online, book reviews epub, read books online, books to read online, online library, greatbooks to read, PDF best books to read, top books to read The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson books to read online.

Online The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson ebook PDF download

The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson Doc

The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson Mobipocket

The Cultural Creatives: How 50 Million People Are Changing the World By Paul H. Ray Ph.D., Sherry Ruth Anderson EPub