Toward Healthy Aging: Human Needs & Nursing Response, 6e (Toward Healthy Aging (Ebersole)) By Priscilla Ebersole, Patricia Hess, Ann Schmidt Luggen

Toward Healthy Aging is a definitive, comprehensive source for health promotion and health maintenance in gerontologic nursing education. Noted for its use of Maslow's hierarchy of needs, this resource and its author team have been praised for the text's wellness-based and holistic approach; comprehensive coverage of common, as well as not-so-common, conditions in the older adult; accuracy of content; and pedagogic aids that promote student understanding. This popular resource provides a solid understanding of how to effectively provide holistic care, promote healthy lives, and address end-of-life issues and concerns. Instructor resources are available; please contact your Elsevier sales representative for details.

- Focus on health and wellness establishes a positive perspective to aging.
- Unique! Disease processes are discussed in the context of healthy adaptation, nursing support, and responsibilities to help the reader gain an understanding of a client's experience.
- Careful attention to age, cultural, and gender differences are integrated throughout to help nurses understand these important considerations in caring for older adults.
- Each chapter provides a consistent organization including objectives, case studies, research, and study questions/activities to make information easy to find and use.
- Assessment guidelines are incorporated throughout as tables, boxes, and forms to provide useful tools for practice.
- Case studies at the end of each chapter provide realistic situations to expand knowledge and understanding.
- Appendices and resource lists assist the reader in further exploration of material.
- Up-to-date content on AIDS provides the reader with important information related to this growing concern among older adults.
- Correlates with federal guidelines or Healthy People 2010 to help students integrate knowledge about healthy aging considerations.

- Unique! Wellness Diagnosis pyramids, based on Maslow's hierarchy of needs, help readers determine which diagnoses to consider when planning care for the older adult.
- Places greater emphasis on the needs of caregivers working with older adults in the home and community settings.
- Expands content on pharmacologic and nonpharmacologic pain management.
- Expands content on end-of-life issues and concerns for both the older adult and family/caregiver. The previous edition of Toward Healthy Aging won a national award from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation for its coverage of this important topic.
- Incorporates new healthy aging strategies to maximize the healthiest behaviors of clients with dementia and their caregivers.
