Zoology 1: Flying Creatures of the Fifth Day -- Young Explorers Series (Young Explorer (Apologia Educational Ministries)) By Jeannie Fulbright

Children begin exploring the dynamics of flight and animal classification, learning why the design we see in these incredible creatures points us to our Creator God. Your kids will learn how to attract various bird species to your yard and identify them by looking at their special physical characteristics, nests, and domestic practices. Students will also explore the world of bats, while exposing the misconceptions that most people have regarding these docile creatures of the night. They will then learn to scientifically classify insects with a simple glance at wings and other physical characteristics. In addition to designing experiments with flies, crickets, darkling moths, and caterpillars, kids will also learn how to attract and catch insects for scientific study. Your children will become true scientists, observing nature and the fascinating world God created.

Editorial Review

Review

This is a great science curriculum! We have learned a lot and really enjoyed using it. You will find yourself observing birds everywhere or looking for insects in a new light. --Fortunately For You Books

There is more activity and variety in these courses than in traditional textbooks. The format makes it easy for parents to provide an excellent balance of information and activity that should be very effective for science instruction in the elementary grades. --Cathy Duffy Reviews

This is an excellent college-preparatory course for high school . . . The microscopic slides are wonderful quality, and are a great teaching tool with the course. The dissections are fun, easy, and interesting. The textbook reads easily. The author has a wonderful writing style that keeps the student interested. --Curriculum Choice

About the Author

Jeannie Fulbright is a mother of four who shares with her readers a love for God's Word, family, homeschooling, and science. She began speaking and writing in college as a sportscaster for the University of Texas and as a headline writer with the Daily Texan. Soon after her family set out on their homeschool journey, Jeannie recognized an immense need for scientifically sound creation-based curriculum that would be both engaging for kids and easy for parents to use. Her background in science at the University of Texas inspired her to create the Apologia elementary science courses.
